ALGP Distribution Box Number

Overview

This third party embed for Vimeo is being blocked For privacy purposes, this third party script has been auto-blocked.

Key Takeaways

The specific ALGP Distribution Box Number is not listed in the available documentation.

Currently, there is no publicly available reference to an ALGP Distribution Box Number in the provided web results. The Algo 8028 IP Doorphone documentation details installation, wiring, and device configuration, but does not include a distribution box identifier or part number . Similarly, ALG Worldwide's warehouse and distribution information describes logistics and supply chain services but does not provide product-specific distribution box numbers .

Recommended Steps

- Check Official Documentation: Visit the Algo Solutions documentation portal to search for product-specific distribution box information, as it may be included in technical manuals or spec sheets .
- Contact Support: Reach out to Algo Communication Products Ltd. or your local distributor to request the exact ALGP Distribution Box Number for your system.
- Verify Compatibility: Ensure that any distribution box you reference is compatible with your specific ALG product, such as the 8028 SIP Doorphone or other IP endpoints. By following these steps, you can obtain the correct distribution box number and ensure proper installation and integration with your ALG system.
