South African OPGW optical cable manufacturer

Overview

Aberdare Cables has 3 manufacturing sites in South Africa, with Customer Service Centres in each province and in Maputo.

Key Takeaways

Aberdare Cables, FibCo South Africa, and Norden are key South African suppliers and manufacturers of OPGW cables. Aberdare Cables

Aberdare Cables, established in 1946, is a leading South African cable manufacturer with three manufacturing sites in the country. They produce a range of cables, including Optical Ground Wire (OPGW), combining high-voltage transmission capabilities with fiber optic communication functionality. Aberdare operates under the Hengtong Group, a global cable manufacturer, and maintains a Level 1 BBBEE status, reflecting strong local ownership and empowerment initiatives. Their extensive network ensures nationwide customer support and service.

FibCo South Africa

FibCo South Africa (Pty) Ltd, founded in 2018 and based in Pretoria, specializes in overhead and underground fiber optic solutions, including OPGW and Copper Cladded Steel (CCS) cables. FibCo acts as a consultant and supplier, carrying multiple international agencies for OPGW products. The company provides project management, on-site supervision, and technical support for high-voltage powerline projects, making it a key player in South Africa's fiber optic and OPGW market.

Norden

Norden is recognized as a leading OPGW cable manufacturer and supplier in Africa, offering competitive pricing and quality products. While their operations span the continent, they provide OPGW solutions suitable for South African transmission and distribution projects .

Additional Suppliers

GLA Power also supplies OPGW cables in South Africa through an extensive network of suppliers, offering customized OPGW solutions tailored to specific project requirements .

Summary

For South African OPGW cable needs, Aberdare Cables is the primary local manufacturer with in-country production, FibCo South Africa provides specialized fiber optic and OPGW solutions with project support, and Norden offers competitive OPGW products across Africa. These companies collectively cover manufacturing, supply, and technical consultancy for high-voltage fiber optic cable projects.
