Tax on cable trays a few percentage points

Overview

The individual states levy sales taxes on goods and services, which the cable providers pass on to consumers.

Key Takeaways

Cable trays in India generally attract an 18% GST rate, regardless of material type.

GST and HSN Codes for Cable Trays

Steel Cable Trays: Most steel cable trays are classified under HSN Code 73089090, which covers “other structures and parts of structures of iron or steel.” The GST rate for these trays is 18%, effective since July 1, 2017 .

Aluminum Cable Trays: Aluminum trays typically fall under HSN Code 76109090 for “other structures and parts of structures of aluminum,” and they also attract an 18% GST .

PVC or FRP Cable Trays: For cable trays made of plastics like PVC or fiber-reinforced plastic, HSN codes under Chapter 39 (plastics and articles thereof) are applicable, such as 39259090, with a similar 18% GST .

Key Points

- The GST rate is uniform at 18% for most cable tray materials, including steel, aluminum, and PVC.

- HSN codes are essential for GST compliance and accurate invoicing. Businesses with turnover above ₹5 crore must use 6-digit HSN codes, while smaller businesses can use 4-digit codes .
- Using the correct HSN code ensures proper input tax credit and avoids compliance issues.

In summary, whether your cable trays are made of steel, aluminum, or PVC, the applicable GST rate is 18%, and the specific HSN code depends on the material and structure classification.
